the farmers who occupy space in the wholesale public markets, the price varying according to location and amount of space occupied."

The Commissioner said he was satisfied there had been a great deal of grafting going on among the col-lectors, and that he intended to make lectors, and that he intended to make a thorough investigation of all the public markets. Those against whom charges are filed will be placed on trial before the Commissioner of Public Markets. In the two cases already investigated, the Commissioner said, topics of the testimony have been sent to the District Attorneys of New York and Kings Counties for criminal action.

Carnival to Teach Hygiene

Exhibition to Give East Side Health Hints Opened

A "health carnival" began yesterday at the Mulberry Health, Center, 256 Mott Street, under the auspices of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. Many children and mothers of the lower East Side came for instruction on how to keep Exhibits of the New York Tuberculosis Association and similar organizations have been prepared. Daily health talks are being given, with moving pictures and a radio concert every afternoon.

Lorimer Back; Eyes Fail

Former Senator Returns to Chicago for Operation

cago for Operation
CHICAGO, July 17.—William Lorimer, ousted United States Senator, who has been in Colombia, South America, as representative of a mining syndicate, trying to recoup his fortunes and repay those who lost in the failure of his La Salle Street Trust Company, returned to Chicago to-day.

Mr. Lorimer's return was made necessary by failing eyesight. He expects to return to South America if an operation to be performed by Colonel P. J. H. Farrell, former chief surgeon of the A. E. F., is successful in restoring his vision.

The one-time Senator reported he was in good health, with the exception of the eye trouble.

Henry M. Peers, Cotton Man, Is Freed of Larceny Charge Henry M. Peers, a member of the New York Cotton Exchange, who was held in the magistrate's court for the action of the grand jury on a charge of larceny, was discharged from cus-lody yesterday by Justice Cohalan of the Supreme Court. Justice Cohalan said that the magistrate erred in hold-ing Mr. Peers

ing Mr. Peers.

The charge against Mr. Peers was brought by Oliver & Houghton, members of the American Cotton Exchange, who accused him of the larcony of $10.

After going through the twelvestory loft building at 12 and 14 East 12th Street, some time between Saturday night and yesterday morning, burglars stopped long enough in their flight to wash and replace their working clothes with choice suits found in the loft. Their own discarded clothing was found on the roof by the police. The first place visited was the loft of Simon Ginsberg & Sons. After cutting a hole in the door the robbers lifted the latch and entered. Here they removed one hundred suits of clothes. Other lofts were also entered and articles of the stock removed.

Accuses Patrolmen Of Stealing 440 Bottles of Liquor

Two women collapsed under the nervous strain of the inquesti. They were Mrs. Peggy Caffe, eyewitness of Investigate Alleged Theft by Police, Who Arrested Wife for Violating Dry Law

Mrs. Caffe swayed fainting on nerfeet, sobbing hysterically as she reached the point in her recital where she said Mrs. Phillips, twenty-threeshe said Mrs. Phillips, twenty-three-spec chosen for her death, and rained merciless blows upon her head with a hammer.

Miss Tremaine, listening white-faced to the story of her, sister's death, had to be led from the room in the wake of the witness when the latter had sobbed out the rest of her story of a weman's vengeance upon the one she fancied her rival in love.

Mrs. Caffe, in reply to questions by Ceroner Nance, testified that she was with Mrs. Phillips on Tuesday, the day before the slaying. Mrs. Phillips as has said, made a number of purchases down town, among them being a hammer, which was wrapped in brown paper and tide with dark string.

Ceroner Nance asked Mrs. Caffe if she corrected to have "talked about" Phillips and Mrs. Meadows."

Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Meadows.

"Mrs. Phillips as has said. When she was excused from the witness stand Mrs. Caffe rose uncertainty from her chair and putting her hand to her forehead swayed unsteadily.

Detectives tushed to her and, supporting her on cither side, led her from the chapel through a side door to the street. With a josting crowd of 500 people at her heels Mrs. Caffe was as sisted to a waiting automobile and driven away.

Mr. and Mrs. Dugan were married in January, 1921, and at the time of their marriage Colonel McKinstry aided them in arranging their new household. Mr. Dugan now alleges that in April, 1922, to which time he and his wife lived happily together, the former army officer enticed Mrs. Dugan from him. Since then, says Dugan, he has made efforts to induce his wife to return to him, but she has refused to do so.

Colonel McKinstry's answer will be a general denial.

PUT A BULGE YOUR PURSE

W HEN the clock strikes ten, on the morning of August 1st, an auctioneer at Schenectady, N. Y., will begin crying a sale of War Department supplies.

Sitting before him will be several hundred buyers-men who know the profits to be made from use or resale of Army surplus.

So well do these men know, they never miss a SUPPLIES sale. Week after week they file into War Department auction rooms with bulging purses; and week after week they file out again with purchases that put a bigger bulge in their pocketbooks next time.

There is no patent on the profits they take. It is just that those men KNOW where to find profits-and GO there. You can do the same. The War Department offers YOU now four chances to put a bulge in your own purse. Attend these four auctions:

At Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 1 At Camp Dix, N. J., Aug. 8 At Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 5 At Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 9
